Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Panik ('748). As disclosed in Figure 2, Panik ('748) discloses a seal element (20) for a vehicle component (10, 11, or 12) mounted with a seal space (everything below the frame) and comprising a seal body (the entire sealing portion, 36) engaging the vehicle component (10-12), a metal reinforcement structure (53, a portion is circular) supported in the seal space via a mounting element (61) in a predetermined position and received within a "receiver pocket" (the portion which mounts the metal reinforcement structure (53)), and the seal body (36) has at least two sections consisting of material of different resiliency (the thickness of various portions of the seal body provide different resiliencies throughout the seal body).

The applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive. It appears that the applicant's arguments are more limiting than that of the claims. The applicant argues phraseology such as "door frame" and "door" to describe the invention over the art of record yet the applicant does not feel it necessary to provide these limitations in the claims but relies on the limitations to be significant enough argue over the art of record. The phraseology "for...." also fails to positively describe and limit the invention since the language is merely functional. Still furthermore, the applicant relies on how the seal element performs and operates yet the applicant has failed to provide any limitations within the claim.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
